

FORMER WILDWOOD GOLF CLUB ALFOLD

We want to hear from you.

The new owners of the former Wildwood Golf and Country Club site are preparing proposed amendments to the existing planning permission and would like to invite the surrounding community to find out more and share their views.

Existing planning permission

The site benefits from an existing planning permission, originally approved in 2011, which has already been legally implemented. The permission includes:

An 84-bedroom hotel

39 hotel lodges

Spa facilities

A golf academy

Maintenance building

A 250-capacity banqueting hall

Why are changes being proposed?

Following the grant of planning permission, the previous owners put the scheme on hold for a period of time before lawfully commencing the construction works. They then put the site up for sale and ceased construction following concerns regarding the viability of the approved scheme.

Back in 2011 the hospitality sector looked different and so the approved scheme was no longer in line with current customer expectations for a hotel and golf club.

Now the new owners want to improve the quality of the approved hotel schemes design and layout, with the introduction of additional ancillary hotel facilities that will be open to the public to book. Design upgrades to accord with the current building standards are also required.

All these changes will ensure the long-term viability of the site.

The owners are in discussions with a high-quality operator.

We are still developing the detail of these amendments and would like to share the emerging proposals with the local community before the application is submitted.
